The first of May finds the Kennebec unusually low for the time of year, owing to the continued dry, pleasant weather. Physicians, pharmacists and druggists affirm that for promptness of action, certainty and range of curative qualities they are beyond comparison. Once used their unequalled excellence recommends them. What Next?

The report of the Ohio Legislative Committee on the charge of bribery in the election of Senator Payne was recently submitted to the Senate and ordered printed. Now the Secretary of that committee informs the Senate that there is a material difference between the printed report and the original copy as drawn by the committee. Several interpolations have been made in the report since it left the hands of the committee, the evident intention being to mislead the Senate. The matter was called to the attention of the Senators yesterday and the report was ordered reprinted and the distribution of the fraudulent copies stopped. This is the boldest case of fraud that has yet been brought to the surface in connection with Ohio Democratic politics. Senator Payne may be innocent of the charge of bribery so far as he is personally concerned, but this last outrage shows that he is at least most unfortunate in the selection of the men who are intrusted with the management of his affairs, as in the eyes of the public men who would deliberately falsify the official report of an investigating committee would not hesitate to corrupt legislators by the use of money. This last fraud should be thoroughly investigated by the Senate.

Calling Things by their Right Names.

The New York Evening Post does not like the remarks of the WHIG on the triumphal tour of Jefferson Davis, but is well pleased with the comments of the Boston Journal, Philadelphia Press and Chicago Tribune on the same subject. Those able papers have an undoubted right to their opinions as regards the good taste of this disgraceful glorification of the "lost cause" and are most assuredly welcome to a monopoly of the Post's commendation. Should any remarks in the WHIG meet the approbation of that paper under its present management we should at once feel compelled to apologize to our readers. The WHIG has always been in the habit of calling things by their right names, and hence when the representatives of the late Confederacy get together to do honor in the most offensive manner to the leader of the rebellion, who owes his life to the magnanimity of the people he now insults, it is not deterred by any mere sentimentality from denouncing such a manifestation as a pernicious example to the youth of the South who should be taught to revere loyalty instead of treason, and one well calculated to arouse the just indignation of the loyal soldiers of the North.

The Fraud Contest in Ohio.

[Philadelphia Press.]

Public attention is attracted anew to Ohio by the reports of the committee which has been investigating the Democratic frauds committed in Cincinnati last October. Most of the details of these infamous transactions are familiar to the public. The boldness with which they were executed and the brazenness with which they have been defended have been equaled only by the thoroughness with which they have been exposed. Their object was to send fourteen fraudulently elected Democrats to the Legislature from Hamilton County. Ten of these were given certificates of election to the House, but they have all been ousted; but the four Senators chosen on the same ticket and by the same method still retain their seats, because with these four votes the Democrats have a majority of three in that body.

It is in relation to these four Senatorial seats that reports have just been made and upon which action will be taken this week. The Republican report makes a clear presentation of the Democratic frauds and forgeries, and with these thrown out proves the right of the Republican candidates to the seats. The Democratic report, however, is a marvel of shrewdness. It admits some Democratic frauds, but attempts to show the perpetration of Republican frauds in a large number of precincts, and demands that wherever these are charged the whole vote shall be thrown out. By this plan the Democratic Senators would be left in possession of their seats.

As the ballot boxes and tally sheets have been in the hands of the Democratic "gang" since the election, and as they bear indisputable evidence of having been tampered with, the Democrats will find it hard to make the public believe that a party which would receive stolen goods in the first instance would not resort to further illegal acts to cover up its crime. In fact, the country will look upon the Ohio Democrats posing as the friends of pure elections as they would regard Mother Mandlebaum's claims to honesty.

Action upon these reports will be taken Wednesday, and the contest which was postponed when a compromise investigating committee was appointed two months ago will be renewed. With the four fraudulent Senators' votes the Democrats have a majority of three. If the case of each Senator is taken up separately, and that Senator only refrains from voting, the Democrats will have a majority of two, and they can confirm the right of the Hamilton County Senators to their seats. This is the policy of the Democrats. The Republicans claim, however, that, as the four Senators were elected on the same ticket and by the same methods, their cases should be considered together and they should all refrain from voting. This would give the Republicans a majority of one. The presiding officer of the Senate is a Republican, and he will carry out the Republican plan; but the clerk is a Democrat, and his hands were strengthened by rules adopted to meet the emergency now arising before the advent of the former officer. The contest promises, therefore, to be an exciting one. That the position of the Republicans is the right one must be evident to every impartial person, and their duty is to stand up courageously for their rights and give the fraud and forgery of last October its final and finishing blow.

A Serviceable Blunder.

[Boston Traveller.]

We do not know just what was expected of the tour and speeches of Jefferson Davis which he has been making throughout the South during the week past, but it is evident from the tone of the Northern Democratic press and leaders, that in their opinion he has blundered. This opinion is also shared by the shrewder of the Southern politicians, who are now diligently explaining that Davis stands alone, is destitute of influence, and whatever sympathy has been expressed for and with him is founded solely on pity.

We fully agree with these that Mr. Davis is destitute of real influence, and that he has no longer power to do real harm. In fact, we would go further, and claim that while his tour has been a blunder from a Democratic standpoint, it will be productive of good results. A sentiment has been assiduously cultivated in the North that the issues growing out of the war of the rebellion are to be regarded as finally settled, and that nothing should be said or done which tends in any way to revive the memory of these old questions with the bitterness and animosity which they excited. It is said that the old spirit of rebellion, of the assertion of the State as against the Nation has died out, and that nothing should be done to excite in the least the old spirit of sectionalism.

Mr. Davis, however, has not hesitated to attempt to kindle again old animosities, to drag out of what was supposed to be oblivion, dead issues. This was perhaps to have been expected of him, but what is of vastly more importance to loyal citizens, he has done this with the enthusiastic approval of the audiences he has addressed. In his speech at Montgomery, when he laid the corner stone to the Confederate soldiers' monument he said:

"Alabama asserted the right proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence as belonging to every people. She found that the compact of the Union had been broken on one side, and was therefore annulled; that the Government of the United States did not answer the ends for which it was instituted, and with others of like mind proceeded to form a new confederation, organizing its powers in the language of the Declaration of Independence in such form as seemed to them most likely to effect their safety and happiness. This was not revolution, because the State Government, having charge of all domestic affairs, both of person and property, remained unchanged. To call it revolution is a gross solecism, (applause), as sovereigns never rebel, and, as only sovereigns can form a national league, if the States had not been sovereigns there could not have been a compact of union. [Applause.]

"That the South did not anticipate, much less desire, war, is shown by the absence of preparation for it, as well as by the efforts made to secure a peaceful separation. The successful party always hold the defeated responsible for the war; but when passion shall have subsided and reason shall have resumed her dominion, it must be decided that the general government had no constitutional power to coerce a State, and that a State had a right to repel invasion. It was a National and Constitutional right." (Applause.)

Loyal citizens will do well to bear in mind the sentiments which Alabama, the South, indeed, applauds. Jefferson Davis has not a vote, it is true, but the men who cheer to the echo his utterances have, and they are determining votes; votes which have placed a Democratic administration in power, and which have secured a Democratic majority for the House of Representatives. A Democratic Senate secured and the South is "in the saddle" with a firm seat. Jefferson Davis has evidently not helped to secure this remaining advantage, and no wonder Northern Democrats and aspiring Southern politicians think he has blundered. The South has, under the inspiration of his words, revealed what it was policy to conceal for a time. Davis has voiced Southern sentiment, but he has spoken too soon for the full realization of Southern hopes. It is not certain that he has not for once, though unwittingly, rendered the country a service, in opening blind eyes.

Meeting of the Grand Bodies in Portland.

PORTLAND, May 4. The Masonic Grand Lodge of Maine met at 9 A. M., Grand Master Fessenden I. Day presiding. The hall was filled with many well known men from all parts of the State. Of Past Grand Masters present there were Hiram Chase of Belfast, Edward P. Burnham, now of Roxbury, Mass., M. F. King of Portland, W. R. G. Estes of Skowhegan, Wm. P. Preble of Portland, Chas. I. Collamore of Bangor, and David Cargill of East Livermore. The venerable Oliver Gerrish, 90 years old, was present and acted as chairman of the finance committee. The Grand Lodge was opened with prayer by Grand Chaplain Rev. John Gibson.

The Committee on Credentials reported [illegible] lodges represented. Probably most of the remaining 44 will be represented when the noon trains arrive. Grand Master Day read the annual address, an able and interesting paper. He reported the death of but one Past Grand Officer, William Somesby, of Ellsworth, Past Senior Grand Warden, who joined the fraternity in 1824. He reported the order in a prosperous condition. He reported that the fraternity of Maine had contributed $136.70 to the relief of the sufferers by the great fire in Galveston, Texas, of which part was declined by the Texas committee on account of sufficient relief having been received and his portion was returned to its contributors.

The reports of the committee on finance and the Grand Treasurer showed a satisfactory state of finances. The report of the committee on returns showed 20,039 members, an increase of 167 during the year. The initiates were 644, against 748 last year; the deaths 269, against 225 last year; dropped from membership 167, against 35 last year. The gain in the last item is most significant of general improvement. Resolutions were adopted recognizing the Grand Lodge of South Australia.

Afternoon Session.

The Grand Lodge was called on at 2 o'clock. Many more delegates were present who had arrived by the noon trains, 167 lodges being represented, and Albert Moore of No. Anson, was added to the roll of Past Grand Masters present. Routine business filled an hour until 3 o'clock, the time assigned for the election of officers, when Past Grand Master Charles I. Collamore was called to the chair and the following officers were elected:

Grand Master, Fessenden I. Day, Lewiston; Deputy Grand Master, Frank E. Sleeper, Sabattis; Senior Grand Warden, Albro E. Chase, Portland; Junior Grand Warden, Benjamin Ames, Thorndike; Grand Treasurer, Frederick Fox, Portland; Grand Secretary, Ira Berry, Portland; Finance Committee, Oliver Gerrish, Portland, S. Clifford Belcher, Farmington, Judson B. Dunbar, Portland; Trustees, for three years, A. M. Wetherbee, Warren, E. Howard Vose, Calais. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to Edmund B. Mallett, Jr., for the gift of a free bed in the Maine General Hospital to the Masonic fraternity of Maine for the current year. At 5.15 the Grand Lodge was called off until 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter.

The Grand Royal Arch Chapter met at 2 o'clock, Manly G. Trask, Grand High Priest, presiding. It was opened with prayer by Rev. Marion Crosby, Grand Chaplain. Alfred Chapman, of Boston, General Grand High Priest of the General Grand Chapter of the United States, was present to make an official visit and was received and welcomed to the Grand Chapter. The committee on credentials reported 37 out of 47 Chapters represented. Grand High Priest Trask read his annual address, reporting peace and prosperity existing throughout the jurisdiction.

The report on returns showed 4,275 members and 172 candidates. The officers elected were: Grand High Priest, James M. Nevins, Bucksport; Deputy Grand High Priest, Archie L. Talbot, Lewiston; Grand King, George W. Goulding, Oakland; Grand Scribe, Charles I. Collamore, Bangor; Grand Treasurer, Rufus H. Hinckley, Portland; Grand Secretary, Ira Berry, Portland; Finance Committee, J. J. Drummond, Portland, Oliver Gerrish, Portland, Nathan Woodbury, Lewiston. At 10.30 the Grand Chapter was called off until nine Wednesday morning.

NEW YORK.

The Broadway Railroad.

ALBANY, May 4. In the Senate to-day the bill to wind up the Broadway Railroad was again passed.

Fatal Result of an Assault.

NEW YORK, May 4. Antony Achello died this morning in Williamsburg Hospital from the effects of injuries inflicted by Nicolli Schillo, who stabbed him and then fractured his skull with a hatchet.

THE RAILROAD STRIKES.

Glad to Return to Work.

ST. LOUIS, May 4. The declaration that the strike on the Missouri Pacific is off has caused great rejoicing and the order to return to work is being generally obeyed. This morning at 7, the time at which the day force of switchmen, handlers, etc., go to work, a large number applied for positions at the headquarters of the various companies and the names of many were immediately placed on the pay roll. Some few recognized as those who had committed depredations upon the company's property were denied employment. The best of humor prevails at East St. Louis. It is expected that the militia will be withdrawn to-night or to-morrow. The Missouri Car Foundry Company's employes are also ordered back.

The Third Avenue Railroad Cars.

NEW YORK, May 4. The Third Avenue cars began running at 3.58 A. M. to-day, and are, it is said, to make their regular trips from now out day and night. The police still guard the cars and the situation remains unchanged.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
Washington, D. C., May 5—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont: Light rains; no decided change in temperature; southwesterly winds.

THE LABOR TROUBLES.

Riotous and Bloody Demonstrations in Chicago.

More than Twenty Policemen Injured.

Over Fifty of the Rioters Believed to be Wounded.

Bombs and Pistols Freely Used.

Union Steel Works.

CHICAGO, May 4. About 100 men employed in the Union Steel Company's works at Bridgeport as laborers yesterday demanded 10 hours' pay for eight hours' work. As it is perfectly impossible for a foundry to work only eight hours this demand was refused but the manager offered to raise the pay of the men from $1.25 to $1.40 for 10 hours. This offer was refused and the men at once walked out of the works.

North Side Rolling Mills.

The North Side rolling mills shut down yesterday for an indefinite period and about 1,000 men are out of employment. The superintendent said that in all probability the mill would not start up again until the labor troubles were at an end. The company could not give ten hours' pay for eight hours' work and to shut down was the only course open.

The Switchmen Join the Strike.

The Switchmen's Union, after a protracted session lasting until an early hour this morning, resolved to go out on a strike for eight hours with ten hours' pay and to aid the freight handlers. The switchmen on both divisions of the St. Paul road and the men on the Michigan Central and Northwestern have already quit work. They will probably be joined during the day by the switchmen of every other road entering the city.

The Packing Houses.

A monster meeting of packing house laborers was held last night. The result of the strike was learned to be as follows: Ten firms will hereafter allow ten hours' pay for eight hours' work, one firm will allow nine hours' pay for all employes getting over $2 per day and will reduce the $2 men; Hately Bros. agreed to allow ten hours' pay for eight hours' work for skilled labor but wanted to reduce unskilled workmen. This was objected to by the committee and as yet the matter is undecided. It is understood that the packing house will allow nine hours' pay for eight hours' work. The Fairbanks refinery will allow ten and nine hours pay for eight hours' work. Kent's house allows nine and ten hours' pay for eight hours' work with no reduction.

The McCormick Reaper Works.

The McCormick Reaper Works opened as usual this morning fully one-half of the workingmen returning to the factory despite the intimidation and bloodshed of yesterday afternoon. A special force of police was on duty to protect men on their way to work but their services apparently were not required as the anarchists and their followers of the day preceding were not to be seen.

An Incendiary Circular.

During the evening following a circular printed in German and with an English translation appended was distributed broadcast in many sections of the city. The circular read: "Revenge! Workingmen to arms! Your masters sent out their bloodhounds, the police. They killed six of your brothers at McCormick's this afternoon. They killed the poor wretches because they, like you, had the courage to disobey the supreme will of their bosses. They killed them because they dared ask for the shortening of the hours of toil. They killed them to show you, free American citizens, that you must be satisfied and contented with whatever your bosses condescend to allow you or you will be killed.

You have for years endured the most abject humiliations. You have for years suffered unmeasurable miseries. You have worked yourselves to death, you have endured every pang of want and hunger. Your children you have sacrificed to the factory lords. In short you have been miserable and obedient slaves all these years to satisfy the unsatiable greed to fill the coffers of your lazy, thieving master. When you ask them now to lessen your burden they send their blood hounds out to shoot you, kill you. If you are men, if you are sons of your grandsires who have shed their blood to free you, then you will rise in your might, destroy the hideous monster that seeks to destroy you. To arms! We call you! To arms!

(Signed) YOUR BROTHERS.

The Police Over-awe the Mob.

Having been driven from the prairie the morning idlers and strikers incited by their leaders proceeded southeast presently forming a column three or four thousand strong. They directed their march toward a large glue factory near the crossing of the river at 35th street with the intention of closing down the works. A strong force of police arrived and arrested nine of the ring-leaders and over-awed the crowd which moved off without making an attempt to rescue their fellows.

The size of the crowd was such that the chief of police directed the reinforcement of officers on duty in that district. The knowledge that such a large gathering was being kept together and apparently urged by leaders to acts of violence, has caused more thorough preparations to be taken to guard against troubles. The commanders of several State Regiments have largely reinforced the guards at the armories without specific orders, but simply as a precautionary measure. A crowd of strikers attempted an assault on the Milwaukee and St. Paul shops, at Western Avenue, this forenoon, but were driven from the scene by a force of police despatched there by Chief Ebersald.

The Affair of Monday Night.

Eye witnesses of the struggle between the police and Socialists yesterday place the number of the latter who were wounded as high as 12. It is not thought that any were killed outright, but the rapidity with which the wounded were carried away by their friends and the secresy maintained in regard to any connection with the affair makes it difficult to obtain reliable information. Joe Voseck is probably mortally wounded and may not survive through the night.

A Bloody Conflict.

A meeting of socialists and anarchists was held near the Haymarket this evening. At first the crowd was large but dwindled to about 1,000. The utterances of the speakers were still of the most inflammatory character, however, and the hearers who were still left grew riotous in their demeanor. The police concluded to put an end to the disturbances and ordered the crowd to disperse. At first the socialists fell back slowly, one of the speakers still urging them to stand firmly. Suddenly bombs were thrown.

The police retorted instantly with a volley from their revolvers. The rioters answered with theirs. The mob appeared crazed with a fanatic desire for blood and holding its ground poured volley after volley into the midst of the officers. The latter fought gallantly and at last dispersed the mob and cleared the market place. More than twenty policemen and fifty of the rioters are said to be wounded, many of them seriously.

Master-Builders Refuse to Deal with Bodies.

BOSTON, May 4. The master builders of Boston have issued a circular declaring their utter refusal to enter into any conference with labor organizations and that hereafter individual workmen will be dealt with.

The Striking Tailors.

A large number of tailors' operatives here are out of employment to-day, most of whom are tailor pressers. They demanded 30 per cent. increase and being refused quit work. The number of operatives out at noon is estimated at about 600 and it is stated that 1,200 will be out to-morrow. It is also stated that the President of the Manufacturers' Association had asked that all shops be closed at 8 this morning.

The Master Painters Yield.

Twenty-one firms of master painters have yielded to the demands of their men and signed the agreement presented by the arbitration committee. Some of these firms employ as many as forty men. All of the employes were ordered to return to work.

RHODE ISLAND.

A Severe Fall by a Domestic.

PROVIDENCE, May 4. Nellie Brady, a domestic in the house of Rev. Father McGuire, fell thirty feet from the eaves of that clergyman's house this morning while in a demented condition, receiving severe injuries.

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capital.

The Arrears of Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 4. The House Committee on Invalid Pensions to-day instructed Representative Matson to call up the arrears of pension bill as soon as the committee is called by the Speaker.

Republican Congressional Committee.

The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee met last night and chose an executive Committee to conduct the coming congressional campaign, of which Representative Goff, of West Virginia, and Hon. Edward McPherson, of Pennsylvania, were elected Chairman and Secretary.

Forty-Ninth Congress—First Session.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 4. In the Senate to-day Mr. Hoar presented a letter received by him from Emmitt Tompkins, secretary of the Ohio legislative investigating committee, regarding the printing of the report that the committee recently submitted to the Senate. The letter states that Tompkins, on examining the copy printed by order of the Senate, finds that a surreptitious interpolation has been made in the copy furnished the printer, the matter interpolated not being in the original copy sent to the Senate by the Ohio House of Representatives.

The interpolation, the Secretary says, is of matter intended to reflect on the good faith of the majority of the Ohio committee and misled the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections. An inspection of the copy, Mr. Tompkins adds, shows that the added matter is written in pencil on soft paper and wholly disconnected from the official papers. He asks an investigation of the subject by the Senate committee in order that the perpetrator of the fraud may be discovered.

On motion of Mr. Hoar the letter was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The matter was ordered reprinted in correct form and distribution of the incorrect copies ordered stopped.

At two o'clock the post office appropriation bill was laid before the Senate.

Mr. Call favored the proposal to appropriate $800,000 for the carriage of United States mails to Central and South America, China, Japan, etc. He did not regard it as a subsidy. It was a necessary step, he said, to the establishment of commercial relations with those countries, that we should have regular and speedy mail communication with them.

The debate was closed by Mr. Plumb who spoke at some length. Several amendments were agreed to. The Committee's provision for foreign mails, as finally amended by the Senate and agreed to, appropriates $800,000 for the transportation of foreign mails by American built and registered steamships to Brazil, the Republics of Mexico, Central and South America, Sandwich Islands, West India and Windward Islands, New Caledonia, New Zealand and Australian Colonies, China and Japan, contracts to be made by the Postmaster-General at a rate not exceeding 50 cents for each nautical mile actually sailed over; and the Postmaster-General, if in his judgment it shall be practicable shall contract for semi-monthly service between New York and New Orleans respectively and the Port of Rio Janeiro under the provisions of this law. The vote on the amendment as thus amended was, yeas 39, nays 18.

On Mr. Plumb's motion the sum of $80,000 was added to the amount already in the bill for railway postal car service. One of the Senate Committee's proposed amendments authorizes the Postmaster General "to contract for inland and foreign steamboat mail service when it can be combined in one route where foreign offices are not more than 200 miles distant from the domestic office on the same terms and conditions as steamboat service, contracts to be made with and performed by American built and registered steamships." This was agreed to by the Senate while the limitation of compensation for such service to 50 cents a mile each way was struck out. In other respects the bill was passed as reported from the Senate committee. The vote on the bill was yeas 45, nays 10.

House.

The resignation of J. Pulitzer as Representative from the Ninth New York Congressional District was submitted and laid on the table. The Campbell-Weaver contested election case was called up and proceeded with.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Queen Opens the Colonial Exhibition.

LONDON, May 4. The Queen formally opened the Colonial Exhibition to-day. The weather was beautiful and crowds gathered along the Queen's route and greeted her with enthusiastic cheers. The main hall in which the opening ceremonies were conducted was crowded with the elite of London. The large number of foreign princes and diplomats who attended in court dress, combined with the scores of British officers present in full glittering uniforms to make a magnificent spectacle. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Henry of Battenberg and his wife Princess Beatrice and the Crown Princess Victoria, of Germany, led the royal procession throughout the building and were followed by scores of other noble and distinguished persons.

The prominent feature of the opening ceremonies was an ode composed for the occasion by Tennyson. This was magnificently rendered by a vast choir of carefully selected voices. The ode was sung just previous to the Queen's formal declaration that the exhibit was open. The third portion of the ode was evidently composed with a view of stimulating international fraternity between the two great English speaking nations and is in the following words:

Britain fought her sons of yore;
Britain failed, and never more,
Careless of our growing kin,
Shall we sin our fathers' sin;
Men that in a narrower day—
Unprophetic rulers they—
Drove from out the mother's nest
That young eagle of the west
To forage for herself alone;
Britons! hold your own!

The last part of the ode, which is in four portions, makes the following significant allusion to the present crisis in British politics:

Shall we not through good and ill
Cleave to one another still?
Britain's myriad voices call
Sons be welded, each and all
Into one imperial whole,
One with Britain heart and soul;
One life, one flag, one fleet, one throne.
Britons! hold your own
And God guard all.

The Queen was pleased with the ode and with the manner in which it was rendered by the choir. She nodded and smiled with pleasure and approval at each sentiment as it was brought out and seemed to exceedingly enjoy the enthusiasm which the poem and music provoked in the vast concourse whose applause was heard, enthusiastic and long continued.

There was a pleasant May dance at the Town House, Hampden Corner, Monday evening, which was attended by quite a number of people from this city. Some seventy-five or eighty couples participated and enjoyed a very pleasant time. Excellent music was furnished by Misses Flora and Maud Robinson, of Hampden, and Mr. E. C. Adams, of this city.

The High School is again the recipient of two fine pictures, the gift of the Senior class. They are photographs of the Forum and Coliseum at Rome, the former in size being 38x32, and the latter 34x22. The pictures were obtained of Williams & Everett of Boston, and were framed and hung by Mr. P. H. Gerrish, of this city. The gift is very highly appreciated by the teachers and pupils.

Constable C. L. Doble, of Old Town, arrested three of the Veazie fellows, Monday afternoon, who assaulted the Old Town boys at Veazie, Saturday evening. They were taken before Trial Justice Norton, of Old Town, and two of them placed under $300 bonds for their appearance at the next criminal term. The other was discharged owing to the lack of evidence found against him.

Mr. Charles P. Webber of this city, has just finished driving one and one half millions of logs cut on Dead stream during the winter, down that stream and Pushaw and into the Stillwater river. Mr. Stephen Foster of LaGrange, is close behind Mr. Webber with two millions and was expected to get into the Stillwater river yesterday. Both operators will sell their logs to be sawed at some of the down river mills.

A part of the Foxcroft dam which went out during the freshet is now being rebuilt in a very substantial manner and will be in readiness for the coming drives.

Messrs. Hopkins & Stanford are employing nearly their full crew of coopers in the manufacture of syrup barrels. They [illegible] making fish barrels for the present some time ago.

The smart crew of stevedores employed by Hincks & Co., finished a quick job of coal discharging yesterday. They took 378 tons out of the schooner Marion Hull and housed it in only sixteen actual working hours.

Probably as heavy a fleet of vessels as will arrive in this port in any one day this summer came up on last night's tow. There were six large three masted schooners, the most of them to be loaded for southern ports.

The executive committee of the Cecilia Club met at Mr. George S. Sibley's music store last evening but transacted nothing but routine business. A general discussion was had upon the work of the club the coming season but nothing definite was decided upon.

The Katahdin reached her wharf at about half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had a large number of passengers into Bangor while some fifty Belfast Odd Fellows who had been making a fraternal visit to Rockland came home on the boat.

The schooner Gertrude which was rebuilt in this port about a year ago has been fitted up with a new donkey engine and now does her own hoisting in loading and discharging. The vessel has arrived here with a cargo of dressed granite from the Mount Waldo Granite Works.

We are informed that J. W. Palmer & Son who have lumbered on the "The Gulf" one or two seasons in the past will operate in that vicinity almost exclusively for the next few years, having purchased extensive permits on land owned by Messrs. McCrillis and Drummond, of this city.

Prof. C. B. Michener, V. S., Inspector of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry has just made his report to Gov. Robie in regard to the diseased cattle at Grono. He reviews the whole matter the report being very interesting and should effectually prevent any more talk about feed or ventilation causing the disease. It will appear in full in the WHIG to-morrow morning.

There was quite a large attendance at the "mum supper" given at the First Methodist church last evening. The supper was a great novelty and caused the utmost merriment. It was followed by an entertainment consisting of vocal music, readings, tableaux, etc. The whole affair was thoroughly enjoyable and those present improved every moment of the time in a most social manner.

The following are the dates at which Moosehead Lake has opened for the past ten years: 1876, May 23; 1877, May 7; 1878, April 28; 1879, May 13; 1880, May 6; 1881, May 9; 1882, May 18; 1883, May 14; 1884, May 7; 1885, May 16; 1886, May 1. It will be seen from the above that the Lake opened from one to three weeks earlier this year than at any time for the last ten years with the exception of 1878.

Messrs. Parker Spofford of Bucksport, and C. W. Coffin of this city, who lumbered quite heavily last winter on Pleasant river waters are now driving their logs. At last accounts the drive which is in charge of T. W. Billings, had reached Lower Ebeeme Pond and was moving along well. The pine logs will be manufactured this season at Hayford & Stratton's fine new mill at Stillwater.

The Bangor Opera House Company held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon. The usual reports were made and the following officers elected: Directors—T. U. Coe, H. A. Wood, Henry McLaughlin, E. B. Neally, J. P. Bass, F. M. Hersey, I. H. Merrill, L. A. Barker, F. A. Owen. President, T. U. Coe; Secretary, L. A. Barker; Treasurer, I. H. Merrill; Manager, F. A. Owen. The annual drawing of stockholders' seats will occur at the Opera House this afternoon at half-past three o'clock.

HUNG UP THEIR DRIVE. A number of river drivers came down on the Piscataquis train last night who said they had been at work on the drive of Bradstreet Brothers, of Gardiner, who had telegraphed to leave the drive, of some 600,000 feet of logs, in Roach Pond and discharge the men, giving as a reason that in the disturbed condition of labor the logs were safer in Roach Pond than in the Gardiner boom. The discharge of the men was a great disappointment to them, as the running of the logs would have caused the disbursement of quite a sum of money, of which they will now be deprived.

BASE BALL NOTES. A new grand stand is to be erected by the M. S. C. Association on the college grounds. It is intended to accommodate about 200 persons. The M. S. C. team has appeared in handsome new caps made to match their uniform. A game has been arranged between this club and a picked nine from this city to be played at Maplewood next Saturday afternoon. —The Hanover, N. H., club will play here sometime during the summer. Mr. R. W. Sawyer, formerly a well known commercial traveler in this section and now a merchant in Hanover, is the manager of the team.—Dillon, one of the Dartmouth pitchers, is spoken of as a good man for Bangor to look after.—J. H. Williamson, Bates '80, has been chosen manager of the Bates nine in the place of E. W. Whitcomb, '87, who has entered Tufts.

THE TRUNK-MAKERS. In connection with the dissatisfaction that now exists among the trunk-makers who have been employed at the factory of J. F. Parkhurst & Son on the question of wages we learn the following status of the case from Mr. Parkhurst: Some time ago the firm made an advance in the wages of their employes, the new schedule of prices to go into effect the first of May and continue through October. This arrangement was understood to be satisfactory to all, but the men recently became dissatisfied and expressed the opinion that they should have more pay in compensation for their work. They were invited to submit their schedule of prices, which was done, and the firm decided that they could not afford to grant the increase in the present condition of business. As a result work has been suspended for the present in the factory.

FROM FOREST CITY. A correspondent writes: On the evening of May 1st, that popular operetta entitled "Cinderella" was put on the boards by local talent at Forest City. Dr. Cody of this town acted as King, while Mrs. Vose rendered the part of Cinderella. Mrs. Vose possesses great power as a singer, her voice being full of pathetic sweetness. Mrs. Paley and Miss Patterson were the "Wicked Sisters" and acted their parts well. We are under obligations to Miss Annie Drake, of Vanceboro, who so well sustained the part of "White Bird." Then followed in order a very interesting charade by the Amateur Dramatic Club of this place; after which Mrs. Vose and Mr. Brown closed the entertainment with a duett, "The Gypsy Countess," which was long and continued applause. The receipts of the evening were about twenty dollars.

The farmers who bring eggs into the market at present hold up their hands in astonishment when told that they can only get ten cents per dozen for them. Eggs have been very low for a year past and the poultry fanciers attribute this to the improvement in the breeding of hens that is constantly being made.

LAND PURCHASE. Messrs. Frank P. Wood of this city, and N. B. Mansfield of Boston, have purchased one hundred acres of the most desirable land in Bar Harbor. It commands a magnificent view of the village, ocean and mountains, and adjoins the property of Mrs. Height, a well known visitor at Bar Harbor. It also borders upon the body of water known as Witch Hole Pond, a private pond fully stocked with black bass. The above gentlemen have acquired the right to use this sheet of water at all times. There are several brooks running across the land and the owners propose to improve the fine building sites upon it with a prospect of soon erecting cottages.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Bangor "Mikado."

Extensive preparations have been made for beautifully staging the Mikado at the Opera House this evening. Mr. G. Will Pickering will have charge of the settings and decorations and will endeavor to surpass all of his previous efforts in that direction. There is a general desire to see Miss Etta May Hunt, the "Yum-Yum," who has been received so warmly wherever the company has been seen during the past week. Every singer has become more accustomed to their part and the whole company seems like professionals. They appeared in Augusta Monday night and at Togus yesterday afternoon and evening. Of their Augusta performance the Kennebec Journal said:

The presentation of Mikado by the Bangor Opera Company in Granite Hall last evening, if the enthusiasm and satisfaction of the audience were any evidence was by no means second to that of the company which appeared here in the popular opera last December. People expected much of the Bangor company and were not disappointed. The Queen City amateurs did themselves credit and well understood how to please and entertain an audience.

The Dalys in "Vacation."

The sale of seats for the Dalys has opened very briskly and these favorites will probably be greeted by full houses. The Boston Journal says:

"Vacation," or Harvard vs. Yale is simply a delicious comedy; it is pure and unadulterated fun from beginning to end, and all is so natural, so possible, so reasonable and so honest, that the spectators, whether man or woman, and however fastidious, yields at once without reserve to its spell, and laughs with full abandonment to the spirit of the hour sure that no regret will follow because one's mirth had been roused and stimulated by what one's subsequent judgment could not approve.

Alvin Joslin.

When Mr. Charles L. Davis and his fine company appeared here last year in "Alvin Joslin" they were greeted by a packed house, and there is little doubt but that this will be repeated next Monday evening. The band and orchestra are ahead of last year's standard and that is saying very much. The following is from the Troy Times:

"Alvin Joslin" was produced at the Griswold Opera House last night with versatile Charles L. Davis representing the New England farmer. A large audience manifested its appreciation of the good points of the comedy by frequent applause. In the fourth act Mr. Davis was eloquent in his display of diamonds, some of which were almost as conspicuously brilliant as the headlight of a locomotive. The "Alvin Joslin" orchestra furnished excellent music, the trombone, cornet and xylophone solos being the conspicuous numbers.

OBITUARY.

Death of John B. Hill.

On May 3, 1886, John B. Hill, Esq., formerly of this city, died at Temple, N. H., at the advanced age of eighty-eight. Mr. Hill was born in Mason, N. H. After the usual course of preparatory study he entered Harvard University in 1818, graduating with honor in 1821. Among his classmates were his life long friends, Ralph W. Emerson, Edward Kent and George B. Moody. After leaving college he spent some years as preceptor of an academy in Maryland. Returning to his native State he commenced the study of law in the office of B. M. Farley, Esq., an eminent lawyer of Hollis, N. H., and continued with him till his admission to the bar. Shortly after his admission he opened an office in Exeter in this State, where he successfully practiced his profession till his removal to this city in 1840. He continued in practice here up to 1865, when closing his business he returned to the place of his birth where he remained till within a few months of his death.

Mr. Hill represented this city in the Legislature of 1853, and the two following years, and by sound judgment and close attention to the business of the House he obtained and held a commanding influence in its deliberations. Mr. Hill was a man of extensive reading. He was a fine classical scholar, particularly fond of Greek literature, devoting his leisure hours to the perusal of its great masters. As a lawyer he was acute, accurate and able, having few equals and fewer superiors. A firm friend, honest, upright in his dealings, in the ripeness of an honored old age, with the love of friends and the respect and confidence of all who knew him, he has gone to rest after a life of usefulness and integrity.

Mrs. Mary E. Forbes.

The sad news reached here yesterday of the death in Wilmington, Del., last Friday of Mrs. Mary E. Forbes, wife of the late George Forbes and daughter of the late Joseph Burr, of Brewer. Mr. Forbes died about two years ago at the age of 79 years and his wife now follows at the same age. They formerly resided in Enfield and left there for Wilmington some years ago. Mrs. Forbes was a sister of Mr. B. A. Burr, of this city, and leaves six children, two of whom reside in Maine, Mrs. T. H. Phair, of Presque Isle, and Mrs. Lancaster of Enfield. The rest are in the far west.

Lecture at the Hammond Street Church.

The Hammond street church vestry was densely crowded last evening when a lecture on "The Turkish Empire" was delivered by Rev. L. S. Crawford, of Massachusetts, who has for a number of years been a missionary in that field. The meeting was called to order by Prof. L. S. Sewall who offered a fervent prayer in behalf of missions, and at the close introduced the lecturer who spoke from personal observations. He carried his hearers back to the time of our Lord whose birth, ministry and death occurred within this vast empire. He referred briefly to many places of interest, among which was the Garden of Eden, the exact location of which is not now known; the Seven Churches of Asia, of which John wrote so much in the Apocalypse; gave accounts of the birthplace of John the Revelator, Paul, Timothy and all former citizens of this country; spoke at length upon the chief city of the Empire, Constantinople, founded by that distinguished Christian Emperor, Constantine, in the third century.

The political situation was dwelt upon briefly, while the religious standing received a good proportion of the time. The Mohammedan belief prevails. While believers accept the Old Testament they reject the New. The various forms of worship were alluded to, while the schools and the press of that country received attention. The speaker paid a pleasing tribute to Dr. Hamlin, who had done much effectual work in that land. At the close of the lecture proper, views by stereopticon were shown of places of interest, each of which was briefly alluded to by way of explanation. Many that in the early ages were in glory now show only desolation and ruins. The lecture was of a high order and was listened to with the closest attention.

WEDDING LAST EVENING. The residence of George W. Harriman, Esq., 27 Larkin street, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last evening, upon which occasion Miss Lillian I. Harriman, his daughter, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank E. Locke of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. B. Besse in the presence of a large number of the relatives and intimate friends of the young couple. Many handsome presents showed the esteem in which the bride is held by her friends. May Magazines.

LIPPINCOTT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE. In Lippincott's Monthly Magazine for May, the serial story, Taken by Siege, takes the reader to one of the famous masked balls at the New York Academy of Music. A Bachelor's Blunder is as bright and clever and interesting as ever. This promises to be the best of Mr. Norris' novels. In the Experience Meeting, a department of unusual promise, Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter, the lady whose recitation of Ostler Joe excited so much controversy, gives her Experiences as an Amateur Elocutionist, while Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in her Literary Confessions of a Western Poetess, not only gives a great deal of curious information about herself, but manages also to criticise her critics with unsparing severity. Julian Hawthorne contributes one of his most ingenious and fantastic stories, Prof. Weisheit's Experiment, and Andrew Lang, a delightful skit on ghosts and ghost stories, in Castle Dangerous. Joel Benton's essay on the Poetry of Thoreau is subtle and thoughtful. The poetry is supplied by Austin Dobson, Louise Chandler Moulton and James B. Kenyon, and the Monthly Gossip contains the usual miscellany of entertaining chit chat.

THE MAY PANSY opens with a strong story, Diligent in Business, followed by How it Became Possible, a touching illustration of trust and duty meeting their just reward. In Six O'clock in the Evening, Grandma Burton tells in a manner to delight every child-heart how a dear little boy and girl learned the meaning of the bread of life. Reaching Out recounts some wonderful doings of Jerry and Nettie. St. George and the Dragon moves on in inimitable style. My Brainless Acquaintance finishes his story, the closing chapter containing a remarkably good moral. Our Alphabet of Great Men gives an account of the life and character of Wm. Penn. Some Remarkable Women reveals Mary Mitford's happy faculty of living above the vexations of life. The poems will be in favor, especially Decoration Day, a charming bit of verse that retells the story of the Blue and the Gray, and the one for recitation, Why Did You not Come before? The Pansy is beautifully illustrated throughout. $1.00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

THE MAY NUMBER OF THE ECLECTIC MAGAZINE is an attractive and readable issue, covering a goodly variety of topics. The leading paper, Ireland Under Her Own Parliament, by J. H. Derwent, is very germane to the British situation to-day, on which the eyes of all the world are fixed. A paper on The Rossettis will interest readers specially interested in literary and artistic questions. James Bryce, M. P., is represented by a contribution on The Relations of History and Geography, and Lady Dilke, whose marriage to her husband under the circumstances represents a rare degree of courage and devotion, has an historical paper of interest on France Under Richelieu. The contribution by Huxley on The Evolution of Theology will be read with peculiar interest. Sir John Lubbock on The Pleasure of Reading, giving our readers a bright and suggestive paper which may be studied with profit, and the companion article, The Office of Literature, will be also cordially welcomed by literary readers. Among minor articles special attention may be called to Emigration, from the Saturday Review, and Socialist Rage and Multiple Personality, from the London Spectator. There is the usual variety of short stories, poetry and sketches.

Published by E. R. Pelton, 25 Bond Street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single numbers, 45 cents; trial subscription for 3 months, $1. Eclectic and any $4 Magazine, $8.

The first two chapters of William Henry Bishop's new serial, The Golden Justice, appear in the ATLANTIC for May. The scene of the story is laid in a western city, and the novel opens in so original a manner as to pique the curiosity of the reader. Charles Egbert Craddock's installment of In the Clouds is in her best manner, and is one of the strongest and most thrilling pieces of work which have yet come from this remarkable writer. Henry James continues his Princess Casamassima in characteristic style, transporting his hero to Paris, of which he gives some interesting incidental descriptions. The fiction of the number is completed by a tender little sketch of New England life, Marsh Rosemary, by Sarah Orne Jewett. Mr. John Fiske continues his papers on American History by one treating of The Weakness of the American Government under the Articles of Confederation. Mr. E. P. Evans has an instructive paper on The Aryan Homestead. Mr. W. J. Stillman contributes Memories of London, in which there is much pleasant reminiscence of English art and artists of thirty years ago. Mr. Maurice Thompson has an article on Bird song; and there are five excellent poems, one of which is by W. W. Story. Criticisms of the new Life of Longfellow, and of some recent books of travel and other volumes, with the Contributors' Club and Books of the Month, complete a number altogether admirable. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

THE MAY CENTURY. Hawthorne's Philosophy is the article which will first catch the attention of many readers of the May Century, partly because his personality is one of lasting interest, and also for the reason that his son, who writes the paper, has an intimate philosophical way of appreciating the elder's genius. Of peculiar literary interest besides are Clarence King's vivacious account of a hunt in Spain for an old barber's basin, such as is known to readers of Cervantes as The Helmet of Mambrino; and the third chapter of Zweibak; or, Notes of a Professional Exile.

The Rev. T. T. Munger, who a year ago contributed an essay on Immortality and Modern Thought, writes in this number with equal suggestiveness of Evolution and the Faith.

Special stress is placed on the profusely illustrated articles, which in their order are an attractive chapter on American country Dwellings, by Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer; The Flour Mills of Minneapolis, by Eugene V. Smalley; A Californian's Gift to Science, meaning the Lick Observatory, by Taliesin Evans; and The Breeding of Fancy Pigeons, by E. S. Starr, which is quite remarkable, both for the beauty of the engravings and the special knowledge of the writer.

With the illustrated papers should also be mentioned the chapters on the war, which include General McClellan's last magazine article, with a fac-simile, it is supposed, of the very last paragraph written by him for publication. The seventh chapter of Mr. Goss's Recollections of a Private deals with the period of the reappearance of McClellan at the head of the Grand Army. General D. H. Hill describes, with stirring anecdotal interest, The Battle of South Mountain, which was the severe conflict preliminary to Antietam. In conclusion General Hill advances a very interesting reason for the ready and lasting return to good fellowship between the sections. General William F. Smith makes a statement with respect to General Grant's strictures upon him in the February Century.

In the fourth part of Mr. Howells' new story, The Minister's Charge, Lemuel Barker shows signs of development toward sophistication. There is a curious short story, called Perturbed Spirits, by Brander Matthews; and in Iduna (including a full-page illustration by Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote, engraved by Timothy Cole) George A. Hibbard portrays a beautiful heroine, from whom had been kept all knowledge of death.

In Topics of the Time there are editorials, entitled George Bancroft on the Legal Tender Decision, James Russell Lowell's Bible Argument, The American Opera Company, and A Readjustment of the Industrial Order. In Open Letters John W. Johnston, of Richmond, replies to Mr. Cable's recent articles, under the title The True South vs. The Silent South, and Mr. Cable gives a rejoinder. There is also a short article on The Kensington School for Cookery, by Mrs. Mary B. Welch of the Iowa Agricultural College.

A poem, To the Memory of H. H., by Thomas Wentworth Higginson; another, Will H. Low, by Robert Louis Stevenson, in acknowledgement of the dedication of his drawings for Keat's Lamia; and others by Sidney Lanier, F. D. Sherman, David L. Proudfit and Anthony Morehead are the contributions in verse, which include in Bric-a-Brac, pieces by David Rorty, Bessie Chandler, and Harold Van Santvoord.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for May is in every way a strong number. The frontispiece is an engraving by Closson from Faith, a painting by E. Armitage, R. A., one of the illustrations for an article by William H. Ingersoll, entitled Portraits of our Saviour—a beautifully illustrated paper on a subject especially interesting to the Christian reader and to the art-student.

The number opens with an entertaining description of the fashionable arrangements that make up what is known as The London Season—illustrated by eleven characteristic pictures drawn by George du Maurier.

The second part of Mr. Charles Dudley Warner's story, Their Pilgrimage, is located in the Catskills.

Passing from this to Mr. Blackmore's novel Springhaven, the reader cannot fail to be delighted with the author's quaint and charming description of English country life. The story is illustrated by Alfred Parsons and Frederick Barnard.

R. F. Zogbaum contributes another of his interesting military papers, entitled With the Bluecoats on the Border, illustrated from his own drawings.

William Hamilton Gibson in Sap Bewitched contributes an exquisite bit of fancy blended with scientific suggestion, and illustrated in his happiest style.

The number contains another instalment of She Stoops to Conquer, with Mr. Abbey's illustrations; and Lieut. H. Lemly, U. S. A., contributes an amusing and truthful Indian sketch, illustrated, entitled The Story of Feather Head.

Miss Woolson's novel, East Angels, is concluded. The second part of Mrs. Craik's King Arthur, Not a Love Story, will be read with intense interest by every mother who has perused the previous chapters. This novel is to be concluded in the June number.

In the third part of Mr. E. P. Roe's interesting series, entitled The Home Acre, the author gives some very useful suggestions respecting the treatment of various soils and respecting the selection and culture of grapes.

Poems are contributed by Paul Hamilton Hayne, Juliet C. Marsh, and Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford.

Mr. Curtis in the Easy Chair, discusses the dethronement of Italian Opera in New York, gives an interesting retrospect of Columbia College, and pays a graceful tribute to the late John B. Gough.

Mr. Howells, in the Study, continues his discussion of Literary Fetichism and of the Destiny of Poetry.

The Drawer is full of interesting anecdote.

The April number of The Cosmopolitan, a new family Magazine published by Schlicht & Field in Rochester, New York, is striking for the variety and brevity of its articles and the beauty of its letter press and full page illustrations. It contains four short stories and an interesting and humorous account of a visit to Mount Vesuvius, by Wm. T. Hornaday. A novel article on the coal mined and consumed in the Blossburg region of Northern Penn. and the discussion of the Emancipation of Woman by Dr. D. J. Hill, President of Lewisburg University. A quaint and humorous sketch from the German of Seidel and a fine poem entitled, You and He, by George C. Bragdon, may also be mentioned. The Young Folks Department is full of bright and entertaining stories, and in the Household Department there are discussed a variety of topics, interesting and important to housekeepers.

To the Cuticura Remedies I owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a sudden lumps formed on my neck ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the Cuticura Remedies—Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, and Cuticura Soap, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and Cuticura Resolvent, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared and the large one broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the Cuticura Remedies North, South, East and West. To Cuticura Remedies I owe my health, my happiness, and my life. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day "Do you still use the Cuticura Remedies; you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but some one or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those that use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large Cuticura Supply House in every city in the world for the benefit of humanity where the Cuticura Remedies shall be sold only, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noise in the head and splitting headaches —how familiar these symptoms are to the thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and an Improved Inhaler; price, $1.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, administratrix of the estate of Edwin D. Morton, late of Newburgh, in said County deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant her power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of the following described real estate of the deceased including the reversion of the widow's dower therein, as the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of any portion, viz:

A certain lot or parcel of land situate in said Newburgh and bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at the northwest corner of a lot of land in possession of F. O. Rogers; thence southerly to land of Augustus Baker, on the west line of Rogers' lot; thence westerly one half the distance across lot No. forty-five, according to Gilman's plan of Newburgh; thence northerly through the centre of said lot to the County road; thence easterly on the south line of said County road to the place of beginning; it being the east half of said lot forty-five, and containing forty-five acres, more or less, to satisfy said debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.

Said real estate is the same described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds of said County, Vol. 541, page 461.

Also, all the right, title and interest now vested in them by virtue of said trust, in and to all that part of said lot numbered twenty-one (21) which lies northerly of said continuation of said division line, said premises being in Howland in said County.
